Executive Summary

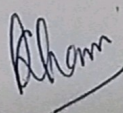

Brief overview of the event-

Introduction

The department of Home Science, D.S.B. Campus, Kumaun University, Nainital organized a one-day National Seminar on "Assisting Women in Identifying Abusive Relationships and Awareness Generation among them on Provisions for Protection against Domestic Violence" on 8th March 2022 (Tuesday) at Conference Hall, Rajya Atithi Grah, Mallital, Nainital, Uttarakhand (Nainital Club). The seminar was sponsored by National Commission for Women, Government of India, New Delhi. More than two hundred participants attended the seminar physically. To start the session Seminar Convener, Dr Chhavi Arya welcomed all the dignitaries, experts, media personnel, participants and students on behalf of the Department of Home Science, DSB. Campus, Kumaun University, Nainital.

The Seminar was inaugurated with lighting of the lamp by the distinguished guest, Prof. Indu Pathak (Acting Dean, Faculty of Arts), Prof. Lalit Tewari (Director SRICC), Prof. Lata Pande (Seminar Director and Head, Department of Home Science), Prof Chandrakala Rawat (Head, Department of Hindi), Mrs Kanchan Bhandari (Seminar Speaker), Dr. Chhavi Arya (Seminar Convener and Assistant Professor, Department of Home Science), Dr Sushma Tamta (Director IIC), Prof Archana Srivastava (Head, Department of Sociology), Dr Ritesh Sah (Assistant Director, UGC-HRDC), Dr Reena Singh (Assistant Professor, Department of Drawing and Painting), Dr Deepika Goswami (Assistant Professor, Department of Zoology), Dr Santosh Kumar (Assistant Professor, Department of Physical Education) and Dr. Vijay Kumar (Assistant Professor, Department of Commerce). After the inauguration, Dr. Chhavi Arya, who coordinated the seminar

Prof. Lalit Tiwari, welcomed all the guests and congratulated the Department of Home Science and members of organizing committee for their efforts and for taking up this very important cause. He said that even after 75 years of Independence, the perspective towards women has not changed. He raised several important questions with respect to women's rights. He stated that with respect to representation in politics women have not received thirty-three per cent reservation. Though in the panchayat system women did get their rights but responsibilities and rights of the Grampradhan were mainly carried out by their husbands whom he termed Pradhan Pati. However, sharing of power will lead to the empowerment of women. Women need to come forward and demand their rights. Women should be strongly vocal for their rights and it is only then that they will receive their constitutional rights and our state and country will progress. Women should have participation in decision making. He further stated that on the occasion of International Women's Day we should ensure that women belonging to our region receive their due rights. He also highlighted the fact that the representation of young women in higher education has increased yet a large proportion of marginalized women remain deprived. Women can get their rights only when they become aware about the provisions that protect them. He gave his best wishes to the department for organizing the national seminar.

Prof. Lata Pande, welcomed all the guests and speakers. In her address she stated that when women get empowered and strengthened, they can boldly face diverse situations in life and can move ahead. This change can lead to the betterment of the society, future generations and the country. She said that our nation will be successful only when its women are independent and strong. She stated that the objective of this seminar was increase awareness among participants on domestic violence. Women need to respect themselves to know their strengths. Women need to understand various forms of abuse and exploitation against them and protest against it. They should also be aware regarding the violence against women around them in the society. It is very important that women be physically and mentally strong. She also highlighted the fact that the Department of Home Science, DSB Campus, Kumaun University Nainital was devoted to the cause of women and was tirelessly pursuing their vital issues related to their lives.

Dr Chhavi Arya thanked Prof Lata Pande addressing the participants with her encouraging speech. She then invited Prof Indu Pathak to address the Participants and say a few words.

Prof. Indu Pathak thanked the organizing committee for giving her the opportunity to meet and address such a vast gathering of women associated with different organizations, Home Science Department and coming from rural backgrounds. Women, had come from remote rural areas to attend the seminar. She welcome all the distinguished guests and participants on behalf of Faculty of Arts and congratulated everyone on the occasion of International Women's Day. She stated that this Seminar provided an opportunity for significant and constructive thinking and to develop an understanding on the issue of Domestic Violence. The seminar provided an opportunity to be motivated and to enhance one's abilities. Further she stated that the Indian constitution had naturally given women several rights such as the right to voting. However, in several other nations of the western world women had to go through the suffrage movement in order to attain the voting right.

She said that for the greater good of the society, both genders will have to work together. She further stated that the two genders complement each other and that we do not wish to develop by opposing each other. She stated that in the past 75 years women did achieve certain milestones and we achieved our constitutional as well as legal rights. Women also progressed in the field of education. Slowly change did happen for women. Some women have reached pinnacles of success and are women in power, holding important posts. However, it is important to know the plight of the average marginalized deprived women. There is a gap in economic opportunities available to women. We also witness a lower representation of women in the administration and the judiciary. Women have fewer opportunities and most often the work in the unorganized sector, which offers little security to women. Today we have the opportunity to ponder and discuss these problems faced by women. We should move ahead with a positive attitude and be proud of our achievements, and collectively try to attain those goals which yet remain to be achieved. In the end she gave her best wishes to all the members of the organizing committee.

Purpose of the event- The seminar provided an opportunity for women for significant and constructive thinking and helped them to develop an understanding on the issue of domestic violence. The purpose of the seminar was Awareness Generation among women on Domestic Violence and also on the Provisions for Protection against Domestic Violence. The aim of this seminar is to make women aware so that they can attain their own identity without the support of men.

Conclusion-

Domestic violence is violation of Human Rights. During the seminar most experts and participants agreed that for the greater good of the society, both genders will have to work together. The seminar also offered an opportunity to discuss the problems faced by women. It was concluded that the day women are able to take their own decision, they will be freed. Women need to be reminded of the constitutional and legal provisions which are in place for their safety and redressal of their grievances and to provide them justice. However, women on the other hand need to be brave and raise their voices against the exploitation. A is a NO is a NO. Women go out to earn a living to different work places where they might where they might be abused, might face violence or face sexual harassment. Here it is very important that women be aware of their rights. She stated that schools should impart sex education which is also mandatory feature of the education policy.

Children should be taught about good touch and bad touch from a very young age. Parents should tell their children that they are willing to help them and stand for them and they should immediately report any such incidence to them. On many instances women are unaware as to how to protect themselves. One of the measures is to establish an Internal Complaint Committee of the institution/organization. She recommended that every institute should form an ICC (Internal Complaint Committee) with the name and contact number of the panel member displayed on the notice board. The ICC must take action against the perpetrator within 7 days from when the complaint reaches the committee.

The situation of women in the rural Indian society is still far from improved. Biasness often starts from home and we need to remove all stereotypes and prejudices from the family first in order to gain equivalence in society. Though there are many types of violence women are mostly affected by gender based violence and domestic violence. There is the need to organize awareness generation seminars and workshops more frequently. Media can play an important role in creating awareness on domestic violence. Women need to come forward and get empowered. Most importantly gender discrimination needs to be checked at the family level to bring about a change. It is not enough if only few women progress and get empowered. Efforts should also be made to empower each and every woman. We should recognize our strength and not devalue the role and contribution of a mother or a housewife.

Participants' Feedback

Department of Home Science, D.S.B. Campus, Kumaun University, Nainital organized a National Seminar on 8th March 2022 entitled "Assisting Women in Identifying Abusive Relationships and Awareness Generation among them on Provisions for Protection against Domestic Violence". The seminar was sponsored by National Commission for Women. The analysis of the data collected from their feedback received from participating women revealed the following results.

Women participants were broadly categorized into four age groups, in which 21.3% women were aged between 18-25 years, 26.96% women were between 26-35 years, 25.84% women were between 36-45 years and remaining 26.96% were between 40-60 years.

Sham

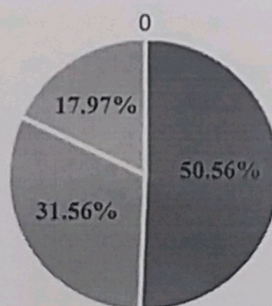

Age Distribution of the Participants

■ 18-25 years ■ 26-35 years ■ 36-45 years ■ 46-60 years

Among these women, 50.56% were working in various organized and unorganized jobs. The remaining 31.56% and 17.97% women were housewives and students respectively.

Occupation of Participants

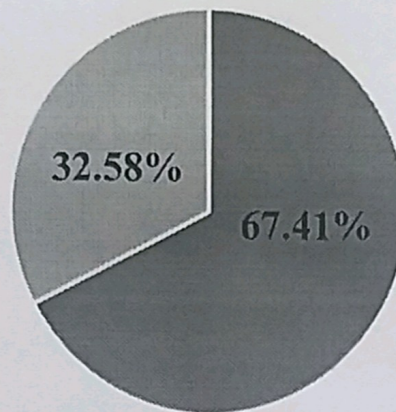

■ Working Women ■ Housewives ■ Students

Data revealed that 67.41% women stated that this was their first seminar on such topic and the remaining 32.58% had attended such seminar before.

Ahmm

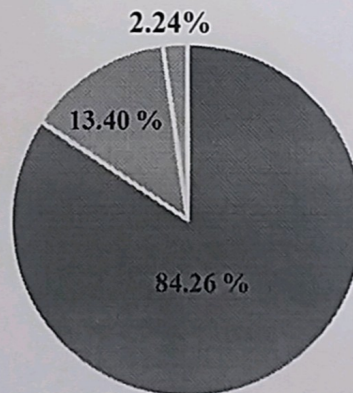

Participants' Experience Regarding the Seminar

■ Attended first seminar on the topic ■ Have attended such seminar on the same topic

The seminar was found to be very informative by 84.26% participants while 13.4% reported that the seminar was moderately informative. About 2.24% participants found the seminar less informative.

Participant Feedback Regarding Information given in the Seminar

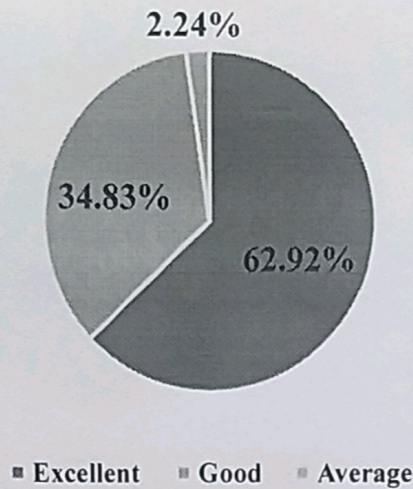

■ Very Informative ■ Moderately Informative ■ Less Informative

In the seminar, it was found that 62.92% of the participants evaluated the seminar as excellent, 34.83% of the participants evaluated the seminar as good and 2.24% evaluated the seminar as average.

Participants' Evaluation of the Seminar

The feedback also revealed that 88.76% of the participants agreed to apply the information or knowledge gained from the seminar to stand up against any form of violence while 11.23% participants will try to use the same information to some extent.

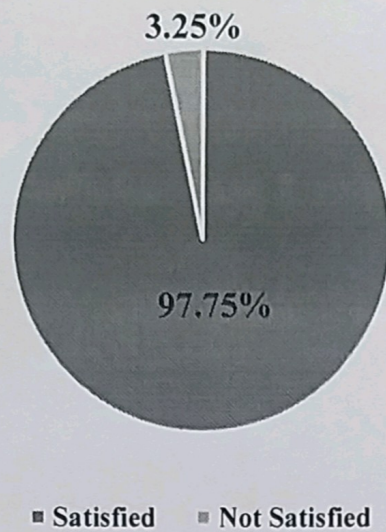

Utilization of the Information gained in the Seminar

About 97.75% participants stated that their questions and doubts were resolved satisfactorily.

Akemi

Satisfaction Level

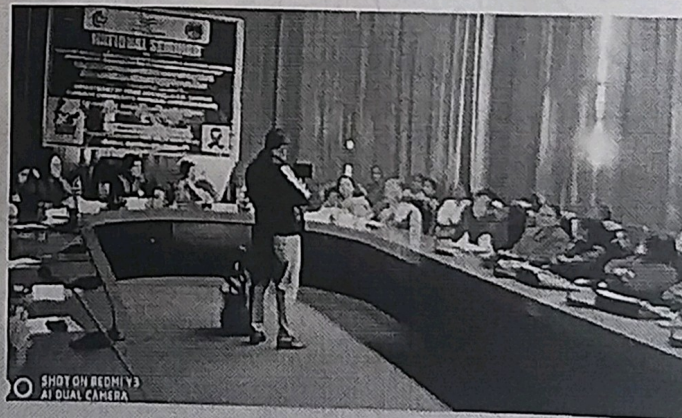

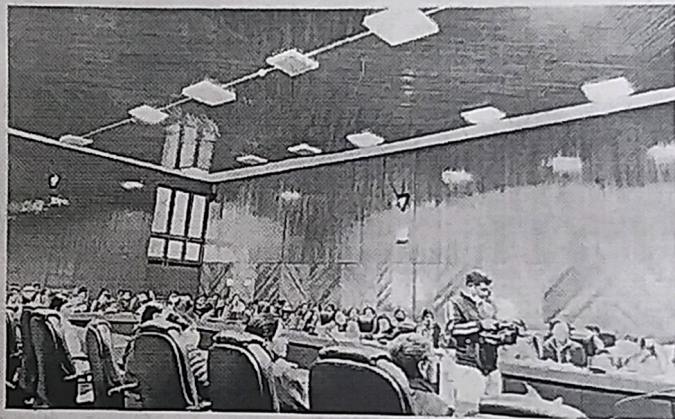

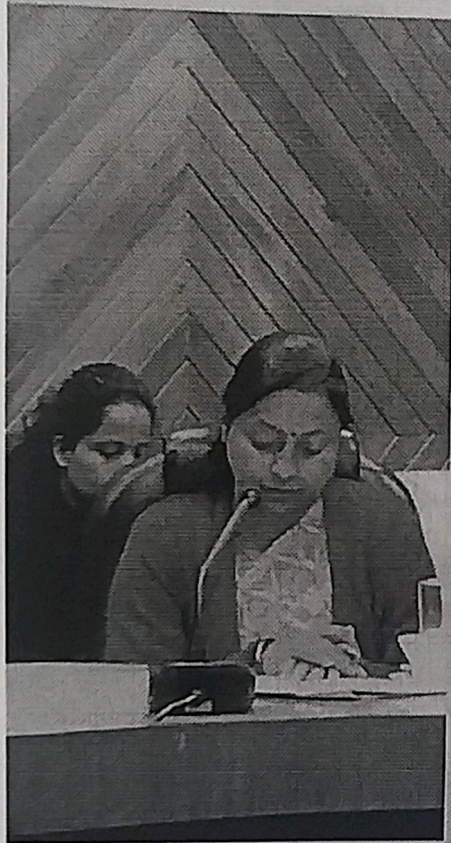

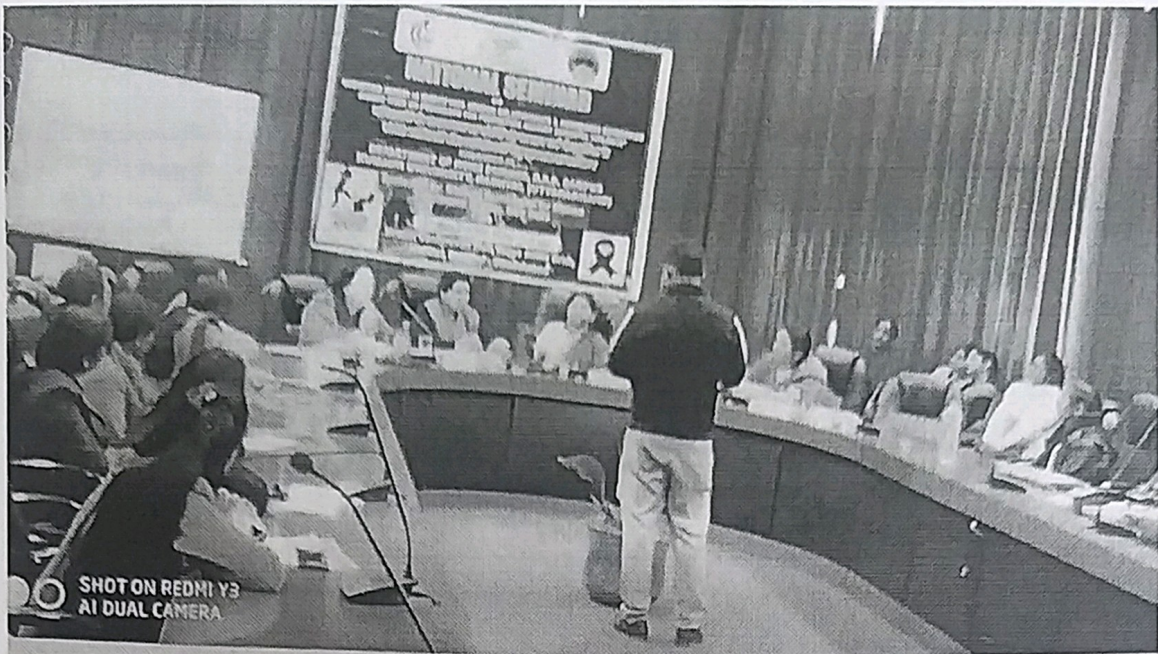

All the participants agreed to participate in the future seminars, if they are organized around the same topic.

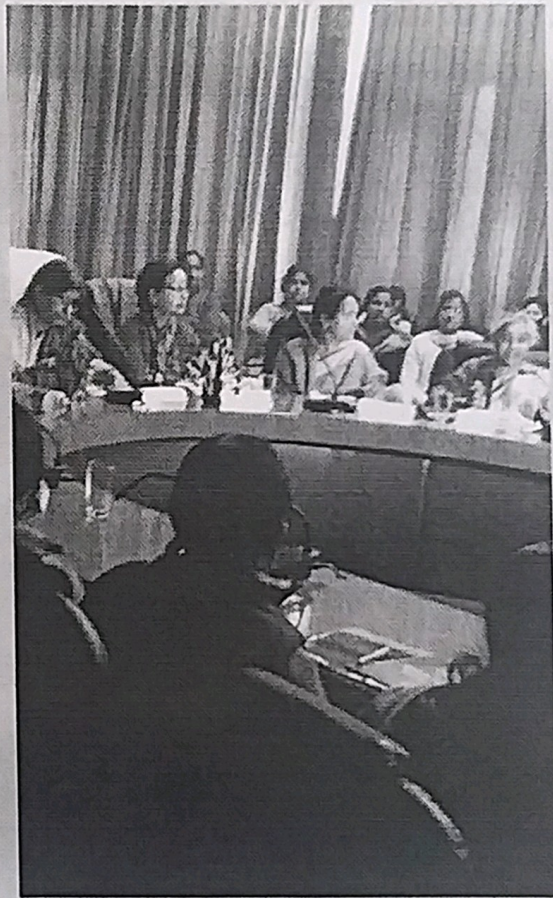

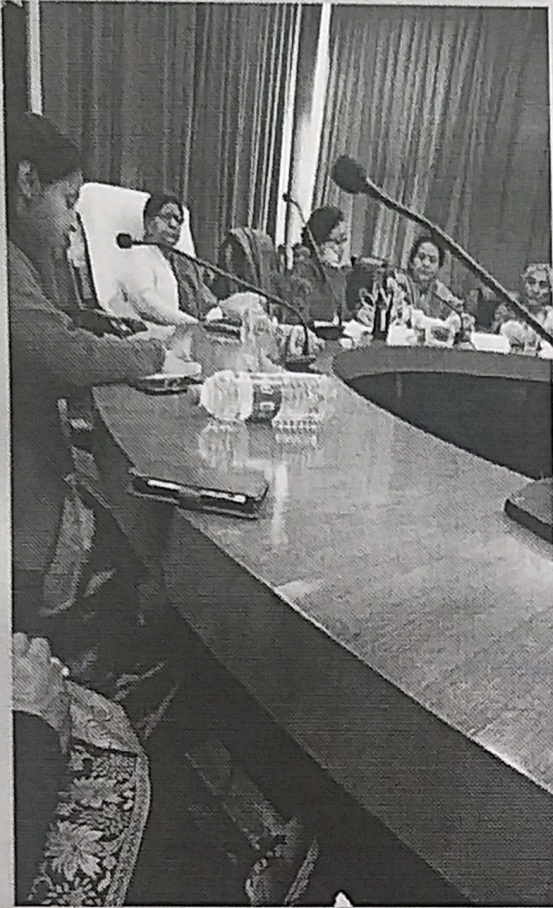

The participants also made following recommendations:

- The number of women participants can be increased.
- Men can also be involved in such seminars so as to sensitize them regarding increasing violence against women.
- Such seminars can be organized in rural areas, making it convenient for rural people to attend.

Report on Legal Literacy Camp

Dated: 18-05-2023

Legal Literacy Camp" On May 18th, 2023, the Internal Quality Assurance Cell (IQAC) of Kumaun University Nainital, in collaboration with District Legal Services Authority Nainital organized a "Legal Literacy Camp".

This event was a maiden experience for many of the students across all semesters and streams who participated in the program. During the event, the learned members of Law Department canvassed and discussed different social and legal issues faced by people. They deliberated on the Child Marriage, Female Infanticide, Dowry and Cruelty by Husband.

The program enlightened the participants regarding the importance and usefulness of legal education. It also ensured that they were made aware of their legal rights and the ways in which remedies are provided under these legislations. The students in attendance were highly engaged and interacted with the resource persons by asking several questions, which were satisfactorily answered to the ultimate level of satisfaction.

The event was a resounding success, with Prof Santosh Kumar, Director IQAC and Prof Geeta Tewari, Joint Director IQAC. The learned members of the DLSA were flanked and supported heartily by the Head of the Department Dr Deepakshi Joshi. Dr Suresh Chandra Pandey concluded the program with a formal vote of thanks.

This program was an excellent opportunity for students to learn about their legal rights and the ways in which they can protect themselves. It was a great initiative by the IQAC and its members to promote legal literacy among students.

Executive Summary:

Brief overview of the event: Science communication is the practice of informing, educating, raising awareness of science-related topics, and increasing the sense of wonder about scientific discoveries and arguments. Science communicators and audiences are ambiguously defined, and the expertise and level of science knowledge vary with each group. DBT/Wellcome Trust India Alliance (India Alliance) is an independent, dynamic public charity that funds health and biomedical sciences research in India. India Alliance invests in transformative ideas and supportive research ecosystems to advance discovery and innovation to improve health and well-being. India Alliance encourages diversity, inclusivity, and transparency in science and works to facilitate the engagement of science with society.

Introduction:

Description of activities:

The event was started with a brief introduction to DBT/WT India alliance by Ms. Nicolette Jadhav, Manager SCoPE, DBT/Wellcome Trust India Alliance. In her talk, Ms. Jadhav addressed the audience about the DBT/Wellcome trust and how they can be benefitted. She also showcased the DBT/Wellcome trust achievements. Dr. Aritri Dutta, Grants adviser, DBT/Wellcome Trust India Alliance, further took the program in her talk on ethics in research and communications.

The middle part of the program was focused on the scientific writing: Anatomy of a scientific manuscript by Dr. Rajeshree Sanyal, Grants advisor, DBT/Wellcome Trust India Alliance. In her talk, Dr. Sanyal introduced the audience to different components of the scientific manuscript and the methods to improve the writing. She also emphasized using modern-day tools for a scientific paper. Dr. Rajeshree further took up the session after lunch, wherein she addressed the audience about the process of writing an effective grant proposal.

In her talk on science communications, the later section of the workshop was addressed by Ms. Himashree Bhattacharyya, Senior executive-science communications, DBT/Wellcome Trust India Alliance; after this, Dr. Aritri Dutta addressed the audience on the emerging funding opportunity at IA.

Brief overview of the event:

Introduction:

Purpose of the event:

Background information: Capacity building is a strategic investment that benefits both individuals and organizations, fostering growth, resilience, and success, Capacity building contributes to organizational growth. When employees continuously improve their skills, it positively impacts productivity, innovation, and adaptability.

Event details:

Date: 7 December 2023

Time: 11 am- 4pm

Location of the event: Auditorium Hall, Department of Biotechnology, Bhimtal Campus

Agenda: Entrepreneurship Skill development

Description of activities:

The event was started with lighting of lamp by Head of the Department Prof. Veena Pandey, Prof. L.K.Singh, Dr.Harshal Pant Jugran and Mr. Kiroula.

Opening remarks were delivered by Prof. Veena Pandey, who cordially welcomed all the distinguished guests, students, and faculty and staff members. She gave a brief introduction about the workshop and emphasized on the importance of organizing such event at institutional level so that the young generation get broad exposure to different areas of research while simultaneously getting benefitted by the innovative and exciting ideas shared by the experts of the field.

Prof. L. K. Singh, Director, Sir J. C. Bose Technical Campus, Bhimtal appreciated Professor Veena Pandey for conducting various scientific activities at the institute and presented his views on entrepreneurship, product manufacturing and marketing.

The participants were then addressed by the eminent guest Dr. Harshit Pant Jugran, Scientist C, CSED (G. B. Pant National Institute of Himalayan Environment). In her presentation, Dr. Harshit enthusiastically discussed the viewpoints of the project "A sustainable approach for livelihood improvement by Integrated Natural Resource Management in the Central Himalaya" which is currently ongoing in GBP-NIHE campus to help the rural people particularly women of Almora district to earn their livelihood and become self-independent. She also talked about multiple products made by utilizing pine needle (pirul) e.g., file covers, meeting folders, carry bags, envelopes, diary, wedding cards, decorative items to talk a few. Her talk also includes the methods used to prepare Bio-briquettes from Chir Pine leaf litter (Pirul) at her Institute. In between she encouraged the participants to ask questions related to the talk and tried to involve them in interactive discussion. She raised concern about the forest fire in Uttarakhand state and discussed how it can be avoided in future. In addition, she invited the students to visit the Bio-briquette processing facility so that they can get hands on training under the supervision of the trained personnel.

Conclusion

Summary of the event: Dr. Jugran gave interesting tips to participants on how they can use local things to make market-based products. She encouraged students to Visit the GBP-NIHE campus to get hands-on experience. A very interactive session was conducted between the resource person and participants. The participants also learned techniques to make Bio-Briquettes.

Closing remarks: The talk was concluded by motivating students to get new ideas to innovate methods to encourage local products to be sold in the international market. Dr. Jugran presented the technical manual of environment-friendly use of pine needles to Prof. Veena Pandey. After lunch break the participants attended the two-hour technical session conducted by Dr. Harshit. The lecture session ended with a vote of thanks to all the attendees from Mr. Lokesh Kumar Tripathi, Research Scholar, Dept. of Biotechnology, Bhimtal.

Executive Summary:

Brief overview of the event: The Scientific Paper Writing workshop aim to demystify the writing and publishing process, helping researchers to produce high-quality manuscripts ready for publication. Considering the importance of Scientific paper writing in today's research scenario, a national workshop on scientific paper writing was conducted at the Department of Biotechnology, Sir J.C. Bose Technical Campus-Bhimtal, Kumaun University, Nainital, Uttarakhand, on 22 March 2022. The workshop was inaugurated by resource person Prof. Rajiv Upadhyay, Director, Internal Quality Assurance Cell (IQAC)-Kumaun University, and Prof. Veena Pande, Head of the department, Biotechnology Department, Sir J.C. Bose Technical Campus-Bhimtal, Kumaun University, Nainital, Uttarakhand. Prof. Upadhyay discussed, how the participants can improve their ability to write clear, concise, and impactful scientific papers. The workshop was duly attended by MSc students, Ph.D. students, and faculty members of the University.

Introduction:

Purpose of the event:

The purpose of the event was to equip researchers, scientists, and students with the skills necessary to effectively communicate their research findings through well-structured scientific papers.

Background information:

Scientific paper writing is a cornerstone of scientific communication. It serves several critical functions in the world of research and academia:

1. Knowledge Dissemination: Scientific papers are the primary channel for disseminating new knowledge and discoveries to the scientific community and beyond. They allow researchers to share their findings with peers and contribute to the collective understanding of a field.

2. Peer Review and Validation: The process of writing and submitting papers involves peer review, which is essential for validating the accuracy and reliability of research. Peer feedback helps improve the quality and integrity of scientific work.

3. Professional Development: Writing scientific papers is crucial for the career progression of researchers. It helps in establishing expertise, gaining recognition, and opening up opportunities for collaboration and funding.

4. Educational Tool: Scientific papers serve as an educational resource for students and professionals looking to expand their knowledge in a specific area. They provide detailed insights into the methodology, analysis, and conclusions of research studies.

5. Basis for Policy and Decision Making: Well-written scientific papers can influence policy decisions and societal norms by providing evidence-based information that can be used to address various issues².

6. Cross-Disciplinary Communication: Effective scientific writing can bridge the gap between different disciplines, fostering interdisciplinary research and understanding. It makes complex information accessible to a broader audience.

7. Historical Record: Scientific papers contribute to the historical record of scientific advancement. They document the progression of research and ideas over time, serving as a permanent archive for future reference.

Event details:

Date: 22 March 2022

Time: 10 am-2 pm

Location of the event: Department of Biotechnology, Bhimtal Campus

Agenda: Developing Scientific Communication Skills

Description of activities:

1: Technical Session: Prof Rajiv Upadhyay as a distinguished guest and speaker addressed the audience of students and faculty members about the scientific paper writing. He emphasized the usage of different research tools to improve scientific writing. He also emphasized the importance of scientific paper writing and its impact on the research community and society at a global level.

2: Interactive session: An interactive question and answer session where the students gained valuable suggestions to improve their ability to write clear, concise, and impactful scientific papers. The workshop provides insights into the publication process at top-tier journals, including peer review and ethical considerations.

Conclusion

Summary of the event: Scientific paper writing is not just about recording data; it's about communicating the significance of research in a clear, concise, and compelling manner. It's about telling a story that resonates with the audience and highlights the importance of the research conducted. This form of writing is integral to the advancement of science and the betterment of society. The workshop was beneficial for the audience as they understood and realized the different concepts of scientific writing. The workshop was attended by MSc students, Ph.D. students, and faculty members of the University.

Closing remarks:

We express our sincere gratitude to all the participants for their active participation and enthusiasm. The workshop covered a lot of ground, from the fundamentals of structuring a scientific paper to the nuances of the peer-review process. The journey of scientific writing is one of continuous learning and improvement so the participants were encouraged to apply the techniques that were discussed, seek feedback, and never hesitate to revise and refine your work.

Executive Summary:

Brief overview of the event: A national workshop on “Scientific paper writing” was conducted at the Department of Biotechnology, Sir J.C. Bose Technical Campus-Bhimtal, Kumaun University, Nainital, Uttarakhand, on 24 March 2023. The workshop was inaugurated by resource person Prof. Santosh Kumar, Department of Geology, DSB Campus, Kumaun University, Prof. Veena Pande, Convener of the Workshop, and Prof. Tapan Kumar Nailwal, Head of the department, Department of Biotechnology, Sir J.C. Bose Technical Campus-Bhimtal, Kumaun University, Nainital, Uttarakhand. Prof. Santosh Kumar shared various tips with participants to write a good scientific paper. The workshop ended with an interactive question and answer session and a final thanks to the esteemed guest. The event was attended by MSc and PhD students and faculty members of different departments of the University.

Introduction:

Purpose of the event:

The purpose of this workshop was to enhance researchers' skills and promote effective communication of scientific findings.

Background information: Scientific writing workshops facilitate networking with fellow researchers. Connecting with peers can lead to collaborations, idea exchange, and a supportive community.

Event details:

Date: 24 March 2023

Time: 11 am- 2pm

Location of the event: Department of Biotechnology, Bhimtal Campus

Agenda: Increase Scientific Communication Skills

Description of activities:

As a prominent scientist and speaker, Prof. Santosh Kumar to the faculty members and students in the audience about writing scientific papers. He placed focus on the use of various research instruments to enhance scientific writing. He also underlined the value of producing scientific papers and how it affects both the worldwide research community and society at large. The audience benefited from the course since they were able to comprehend and share the numerous ideas of scientific writing on different social media platforms.

His main points for consideration are as under:

- He urged the participants to write their papers from beginning to end, emphasizing that the introduction is a crucial component of any scientific publication because it contains information about their study as well as relevant findings from other countries' scientists.
- He also emphasized the importance of the abstract section, which is included with every research study and serves as a "preview" for the reader of what's to follow.
- The results section is where you share the outcomes you've obtained; he further pushed the participants. Utilize graphs and tables as applicable, but also provide a prose summary of your key findings.
- He also pushed the participants to emphasise the most important findings in the discussion portion rather than simply restating what they had said in the Findings section.
- The acknowledgement portion is optional; he also advised the participants. You should express your gratitude to anyone who assisted with the studies or provided crucial input by talking about the protocol or offering manuscript comments.

Conclusion

Summary of the event: The event was led successfully by the Department of Biotechnology. All the participants learned the dos and don'ts of scientific paper writing. The interactive session was very engaging and thought-provoking.

Closing remarks:

Workshops provide an opportunity to learn from seasoned experts in the field. Workshops highlight common pitfalls and mistakes in scientific writing. Learning from others' experiences helps participants avoid these errors. In summary, we hope that attending this scientific writing workshop will empower researchers to write well-crafted papers that will contribute to the advancement of science.

Executive Summary

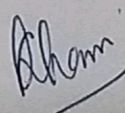

Brief overview of the event-

Introduction

The department of Home Science, D.S.B. Campus, Kumaun University, Nainital organized a one-day National Seminar on "Assisting Women in Identifying Abusive Relationships and Awareness Generation among them on Provisions for Protection against Domestic Violence" on 8th March 2022 (Tuesday) at Conference Hall, Rajya Atithi Grah, Mallital, Nainital, Uttarakhand (Nainital Club). The seminar was sponsored by National Commission for Women, Government of India, New Delhi. More than two hundred participants attended the seminar physically. To start the session Seminar Convener, Dr Chhavi Arya welcomed all the dignitaries, experts, media personnel, participants and students on behalf of the Department of Home Science, DSB. Campus, Kumaun University, Nainital.

The Seminar was inaugurated with lighting of the lamp by the distinguished guest, Prof. Indu Pathak (Acting Dean, Faculty of Arts), Prof. Lalit Tewari (Director SRICC), Prof. Lata Pande (Seminar Director and Head, Department of Home Science), Prof Chandrakala Rawat (Head, Department of Hindi), Mrs Kanchan Bhandari (Seminar Speaker), Dr. Chhavi Arya (Seminar Convener and Assistant Professor, Department of Home Science), Dr Sushma Tamta (Director IIC), Prof Archana Srivastava (Head, Department of Sociology), Dr Ritesh Sah (Assistant Director, UGC-HRDC), Dr Reena Singh (Assistant Professor, Department of Drawing and Painting), Dr Deepika Goswami (Assistant Professor, Department of Zoology), Dr Santosh Kumar (Assistant Professor, Department of Physical Education) and Dr. Vijay Kumar (Assistant Professor, Department of Commerce). After the inauguration, Dr. Chhavi Arya, who coordinated the seminar

Prof. Lalit Tiwari, welcomed all the guests and congratulated the Department of Home Science and members of organizing committee for their efforts and for taking up this very important cause. He said that even after 75 years of Independence, the perspective towards women has not changed. He raised several important questions with respect to women's rights. He stated that with respect to representation in politics women have not received thirty-three per cent reservation. Though in the panchayat system women did get their rights but responsibilities and rights of the Grampradhan were mainly carried out by their husbands whom he termed Pradhan Pati. However, sharing of power will lead to the empowerment of women. Women need to come forward and demand their rights. Women should be strongly vocal for their rights and it is only then that they will receive their constitutional rights and our state and country will progress. Women should have participation in decision making. He further stated that on the occasion of International Women's Day we should ensure that women belonging to our region receive their due rights. He also highlighted the fact that the representation of young women in higher education has increased yet a large proportion of marginalized women remain deprived. Women can get their rights only when they become aware about the provisions that protect them. He gave his best wishes to the department for organizing the national seminar.

Prof. Lata Pande, welcomed all the guests and speakers. In her address she stated that when women get empowered and strengthened, they can boldly face diverse situations in life and can move ahead. This change can lead to the betterment of the society, future generations and the country. She said that our nation will be successful only when its women are independent and strong. She stated that the objective of this seminar was increase awareness among participants on domestic violence. Women need to respect themselves to know their strengths. Women need to understand various forms of abuse and exploitation against them and protest against it. They should also be aware regarding the violence against women around them in the society. It is very important that women be physically and mentally strong. She also highlighted the fact that the Department of Home Science, DSB Campus, Kumaun University Nainital was devoted to the cause of women and was tirelessly pursuing their vital issues related to their lives.

Dr Chhavi Arya thanked Prof Lata Pande addressing the participants with her encouraging speech. She then invited Prof Indu Pathak to address the Participants and say a few words.

Prof. Indu Pathak thanked the organizing committee for giving her the opportunity to meet and address such a vast gathering of women associated with different organizations, Home Science Department and coming from rural backgrounds. Women, had come from remote rural areas to attend the seminar. She welcome all the distinguished guests and participants on behalf of Faculty of Arts and congratulated everyone on the occasion of International Women's Day. She stated that this Seminar provided an opportunity for significant and constructive thinking and to develop an understanding on the issue of Domestic Violence. The seminar provided an opportunity to be motivated and to enhance one's abilities. Further she stated that the Indian constitution had naturally given women several rights such as the right to voting. However, in several other nations of the western world women had to go through the suffrage movement in order to attain the voting right.

She said that for the greater good of the society, both genders will have to work together. She further stated that the two genders complement each other and that we do not wish to develop by opposing each other. She stated that in the past 75 years women did achieve certain milestones and we achieved our constitutional as well as legal rights. Women also progressed in the field of education. Slowly change did happen for women. Some women have reached pinnacles of success and are women in power, holding important posts. However, it is important to know the plight of the average marginalized deprived women. There is a gap in economic opportunities available to women. We also witness a lower representation of women in the administration and the judiciary. Women have fewer opportunities and most often the work in the unorganized sector, which offers little security to women. Today we have the opportunity to ponder and discuss these problems faced by women. We should move ahead with a positive attitude and be proud of our achievements, and collectively try to attain those goals which yet remain to be achieved. In the end she gave her best wishes to all the members of the organizing committee.

Purpose of the event- The seminar provided an opportunity for women for significant and constructive thinking and helped them to develop an understanding on the issue of domestic violence. The purpose of the seminar was Awareness Generation among women on Domestic Violence and also on the Provisions for Protection against Domestic Violence. The aim of this seminar is to make women aware so that they can attain their own identity without the support of men.

Conclusion-

Domestic violence is violation of Human Rights. During the seminar most experts and participants agreed that for the greater good of the society, both genders will have to work together. The seminar also offered an opportunity to discuss the problems faced by women. It was concluded that the day women are able to take their own decision, they will be freed. Women need to be reminded of the constitutional and legal provisions which are in place for their safety and redressal of their grievances and to provide them justice. However, women on the other hand need to be brave and raise their voices against the exploitation. A is a NO is a NO. Women go out to earn a living to different work places where they might where they might be abused, might face violence or face sexual harassment. Here it is very important that women be aware of their rights. She stated that schools should impart sex education which is also mandatory feature of the education policy.

Children should be taught about good touch and bad touch from a very young age. Parents should tell their children that they are willing to help them and stand for them and they should immediately report any such incidence to them. On many instances women are unaware as to how to protect themselves. One of the measures is to establish an Internal Complaint Committee of the institution/organization. She recommended that every institute should form an ICC (Internal Complaint Committee) with the name and contact number of the panel member displayed on the notice board. The ICC must take action against the perpetrator within 7 days from when the complaint reaches the committee.

The situation of women in the rural Indian society is still far from improved. Biasness often starts from home and we need to remove all stereotypes and prejudices from the family first in order to gain equivalence in society. Though there are many types of violence women are mostly affected by gender based violence and domestic violence. There is the need to organize awareness generation seminars and workshops more frequently. Media can play an important role in creating awareness on domestic violence. Women need to come forward and get empowered. Most importantly gender discrimination needs to be checked at the family level to bring about a change. It is not enough if only few women progress and get empowered. Efforts should also be made to empower each and every woman. We should recognize our strength and not devalue the role and contribution of a mother or a housewife.

Title of report	Community outreach activity under Aahaar Kranti Mission at Jeolikote (Distt-Nainital) in association with SOS-CVI Bhimtal
Date of event	28 th April 2022
Name of organizers	Department of Home Science, Kumaun University, Nainital
Type of activity	Community outreach activity under Aahaar Kranti Mission (lectures on Balanced Diet, Prevention of Anemia and healthy cooking and eating habits)
Details of expenditure	NIL
Total number of beneficiaries	50 women and girls

Overview of the event-

Aahaar Kranti Mission was launched on 13 April, 2021 by Union Minister for Health and Family Welfare, Dr Harsh Vardhan. A mission aimed to raising awareness about nutrition and value of locally grown, easily accessible, affordable fruits and vegetables in India. It is designed to address the problem of hunger and diseases, being faced by India and the world. Many people in the nation are malnourished. According to studies India produces as much as two times the amount of calories it consumes. A lack of knowledge about diet is the main reason for this unique condition. In light of this, Aahaar Kranti was introduced with the tagline "Good Diet-Good Cognition," or Uttam Aahaar-Uttam Vichaar. The movement aims to raise awareness of the benefits of a balanced diet, the therapeutic properties of regional fruits and vegetables, the values and richness of India's traditional food, and other relevant topics. A balanced diet contains an adequate amount of all the nutrients required by the body to grow, remain healthy, prevents malnutrition and diseases and boost the immune system. Lectures were given to the women and girls on the topics Balanced Diet, Prevention of Anemia and healthy cooking and eating habits.

Purpose- To generate awareness on Health and its importance among women and girls

Conclusion

Awareness was generated regarding health and its importance among 50 women and girls through lectures. Lectures were given on the topics of a Balanced Diet, the prevention of Anemia and healthy cooking and eating habits.
